

My name is Sharon. My husband and I are quite handy and knowledgeable in maintenance work. My son was returning to Cape Town and commission us to convert the garage into a home office. We embarked on the project, pricing the material, aiming to outsource some of the specialized labour. The reality brought up a lot of questions about the roof, the damp, the long term durability. We began to feel overwhelmed of the reality versus the perception.

My son recommended we get some professional advice.

I solicited the guidance of Benjamin from B&D PROJECTS (PTY) LTD

Benjamin made a time to meet on site. He gave us information and recommendations that we had not even considered. He advised where I could get the material and the quality we should use for long term benefits. My husband and I realized we were over our heads. I immediately asked Benjamin to HELP US! We had a telephonic conference with my son overseas, a professional detailed quote was emailed within days and the job was started.

The workers were on time the materials were delivered and the job was underway relieving us of all the stress. The time frame given was adhered to and the job was completed according to schedule.

Benjamin was constantly in communication with his workers telephonically or on site. We were always informed as to what the workers would be doing next. There were no delays in waiting for material and there was no deviation from the budget.

We had peace of mind during and after the process. We can highly recommend B&D PROJECTS for any job big or small.

Thank you to Benjamin and his crew for a job well done.
